

ECA Press - Brussels - The European Casino Association announces new board structure after its Board meeting today at ICE 2022.

The retirement of Bettina Glatz-Kremsner as General Director of Casinos Austria, has prompted a restructure of the Board of the European Casino Association. Ms. Glatz-Kremsner's position in representing Austria at the ECA Board has been filled by Erwin van Lambaart, who transitioned from his role at Holland Casino to the CEO of Casinos Austria at the start of this month. In addition, Pieter Boers, Vice President of Gaming and Services at Holland Casino, joins as a new Board Member to fill Mr. Van Lambaart's vacated position as The Netherlands' representative on the ECA Board.

"The contribution of Bettina Glatz-Kremsner, as Board Member and the ECA's Vice Chair during the last two years, has been critical to the unified response of the land-based casino sector to the adversity faced by members during the Covid-19 crisis," stated Per Jaldung, Chairman of the ECA. "I wish Bettina the very best as she retires from her role at Casinos Austria and, on behalf of the ECA, recognise the debt we owe for the contributions she has made, not only in regards to our association, but to the casino industry as a whole. I am sure we will cross paths in the future, and I look forward to such opportunities."

"I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate Erwin van Lambaart on his new role leading Casinos Austria. As an existing and highly valued ECA Board Member, I look forward to maintaining our close working relationship. I also extend a warm welcome to our newest Board Member, Pieter Boers, whose input is most welcome at this pivotal time for the land-based casino industry in Europe," concluded Mr. Jaldung.
